

University of Illinois Chicago Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery Externship Program

The Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery Program of the University of Illinois Chicago offers two-week externships to qualified dental students. The externship offers the student considering a career in Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery the opportunity to gain experience and knowledge in the specialty of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery. The extern will be expected to participate in the operating room and clinical management of patients as well as the scheduled didactic conferences of the residency program. The extern may be involved in clinical patient care that occurs at UI Health and the Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery Clinic at the College of Dentistry. The extern will be required to present at one of the OMS conferences during their stay in Chicago, and involvement in research is encouraged. The externship is available throughout the year; however, the highest demand occurs during the summer months. Additional information about the residency program at the University of Illinois Chicago can be obtained by contacting Maria G. Limon, Assistant to the Head.

Living arrangements

Living arrangements are the responsibility of the extern. Please visit <http://www.housing.uic.edu> for more information. Transportation between hospitals and facilities will be provided for the extern, therefore, a car is not required.

Requirements

See Application Form.

The application and supporting documentation should be received at least two months prior to the desired month of externship. Externships are offered to qualified candidates on a first come, first served basis.
